1.1 Going concern

Management has assessed the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for a period of at least twelve months from the reporting date and has concluded that the going concern basis of preparation is appropriate

The Company generated earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization ("EBITDA") of AED 69.6 million for the nine-month period ended 30 September 2026, calculated by adding back depreciation and amortization expenses to operating profit, supported by sustained improvements in pricing, an enhanced domestic sales mix and ongoing operational efficiencies. Liquidity remained stable through access to AED 147.3 million of revolving banking facilities, of which approximately AED 31.5 million remained undrawn as of 30 September 2026, and the Company remained fully compliant with all banking covenants as at end of reporting period.

The Company continues to manage its working capital requirements through its operating cash flows, advance cash sales, credit and inventory management, existing banking facilities and shareholder funding arrangements. The Company also has a three-year fuel supply arrangement in place and maintains flexibility over its fuel mix through the use of alternative energy sources. Sales arrangements are predominantly market-linked, allowing pricing to reflect prevailing market conditions.

Management has prepared cash flow forecasts covering the going concern assessment period. The forecasts take into consideration, among other matters, expected production and sales levels, domestic market demand, sales mix and pricing, collection of receivables, energy costs, planned capital expenditure and the timing of settlement of the Company's financial obligations. Management has also considered reasonably possible changes in these assumptions and identified mitigating actions available in downside scenarios, including utilisation of available financing facilities, optimisation of sales arrangements, deferral of non-essential capital expenditure, management of overhead costs and renegotiation of supplier terms.

Accordingly, the interim financial information has been prepared on a going concern basis.

International Tax Reform – Pillar Two (Global Minimum Tax)

The Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development ("OECD") has issued the Global Anti-Base Erosion ("GloBE") Model Rules ("Pillar Two"), which introduce a global minimum effective tax rate of 15% applicable to multinational enterprise groups that meet the prescribed consolidated revenue threshold.

Management is currently assessing the potential applicability of Pillar Two to the Company, taking into account the Company's ownership structure, operations and the requirements of the applicable legislation. This assessment includes evaluating whether the Company and its group may qualify for any available transitional Safe Harbour reliefs or exemptions under the OECD Pillar Two framework.

As at 30 September 2026, management has not identified any current tax or deferred tax impacts arising from Pillar Two legislation. However, the assessment remains ongoing and management has not yet concluded whether the conditions for the available Safe Harbour provisions are met. Accordingly, the ultimate impact of Pillar Two, if any, cannot yet be reliably determined. Management will continue to monitor developments relating to the implementation of Pillar Two legislation and will reassess any potential financial statement impact, including the availability of Safe Harbour reliefs, as further information becomes available

22. Fair value measurement

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. As such, differences can arise between book values and the fair value estimates. Underlying the definition of fair value is the presumption that the Company is a going concern without any intention or requirement to materially curtail the scale of its operation or to undertake a transaction on adverse terms.

Fair value of financial instruments carried at amortised cost
Management considers that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recognised at amortised cost in the interim condensed financial information approximate their fair values.

Valuation techniques and assumptions applied for the purposes of measuring fair value
The fair values of financial assets and financial liabilities are determined using similar valuation techniques and assumptions as used in the audited annual financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2025.

Fair value of the Company's financial assets that are measured at fair value on recurring basis
Some of the Company's financial assets are measured at fair value at the end of the reporting period. The following table gives information about how the fair values of these financial assets are determined;

	Fair value
Financial assets	30 September 2026 AED (unaudited)	31 December 2025 AED (audited)	Fair value hierarchy	Valuation techniques and key inputs	Significant unobservable input	Relationship of unobservable inputs to fair value
Quoted equity investments carried at FVTOCI	48,471	48,471	Level 1	Quoted bid prices in an active market	None	N/A
	48,471	48,471

22. Fair value measurement (continued)

Fair value hierarchy
All financial instruments for which fair value is recognised or disclosed are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole, as follows:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable

For assets and liabilities that are recognised at fair value on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

There were no changes in the Company's valuation processes, valuation techniques, and types of inputs used in the fair value measurements during the period.

23. Comparative information

Certain corresponding figures for previous year have been reclassified in order to conform to the presentation for the current year. Such reclassifications do not affect previously reported profit or shareholder's equity.

These changes have been made to improve the quality of information presented.

24. Events during the reporting period

During the period ended 30 September 2026, ongoing geopolitical developments in parts of the Middle East contributed to uncertainty in the regional economic environment, including the United Arab Emirates. Such developments may affect energy markets, supply chains, transportation costs, construction activity and broader economic conditions relevant to the cement industry.

Management has assessed the potential impact of these developments on the Company's operations and financial position, including the procurement of fuel and raw materials, production activities, customer demand, trade receivable collections and financing arrangements. Management has also considered the impact of changes in energy and transportation costs, inflationary pressures and other market conditions relevant to the industry.

Management continues to monitor regional and global developments and will assess the impact of any future changes on the Company's operations, financial position and financial reporting estimates as further information becomes available.

25. Approval of interim condensed financial information

The interim condensed financial information were approved by the Board of Directors and authorised for issue on 04 November 2026.
