14. Fair value of financial instruments

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The Group's financial assets are measured at fair value at the end of each reporting period. The following tables give information about how the fair values of these financial assets are determined.

Fair value hierarchy

The table below analyses financial instruments carried at fair value by valuation method. The different levels have been defined as follows:

- Level 1: quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- Level 2: inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (i.e. as prices) or indirectly (i.e. derived from prices); and
- Level 3: valuation techniques that include inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (unobservable inputs).

Movement in level 3 is as follows:

	30 September 2026 (Unaudited)	31 December 2025 (Audited)	30 September 2025 (Unaudited)

Closing balance	26,515	43,660	27,339

The fair values of equity investments are obtained from quoted market prices and other models.

Valuation techniques include observable market information of comparable companies and net asset values. Significant unobservable inputs used in valuation techniques mainly include market multiples such as price to book and price to earnings. The most significant unobservable inputs used is the illiquidity discount in the level 3 hierarchy. A sensitivity analysis on fair value estimations, by varying input assumptions by a reasonable margin, did not indicate any material impact on the interim condensed consolidated statement of financial position or consolidated statement of profit or loss.

17. Impacts of geopolitical conflict in Middle East and related uncertainties

Geopolitical events in the Middle East since the end of February 2026 have affected Kuwait and other GCC countries, where the Group operates, resulting in increased macro-economic uncertainties and unfavorable business conditions.

Expected Credit Loss (ECL) estimates

The Group considered the potential impact of the uncertainties caused by the ongoing geopolitical event together with the relief measures of governments and central banks in its estimation of ECL requirements for the period ended 30 September 2026, making adjustments to the macro-economic variables as appropriate. The Group has also given specific consideration on the relevant quantitative and qualitative factors when determining any significant increase in credit risk (SICR) and in assessing indicators of impairment for exposures to potentially affected sectors.

Fair value measurement of financial and non-financial assets

The Group considered the potential impact of the current economic volatility on the reported amounts of the Group's fair value of the financial and non-financial assets. The reported amounts best represent management's assessment of the fair values based on observable information. Markets, however, remain volatile and asset carrying values remain sensitive to market fluctuations. The impact of the highly uncertain geopolitical and economic environment remains judgmental, and the Group will accordingly continue to reassess its position and the related impact on a regular basis.

Management continues to monitor the situation and assess potential impacts on the Group. As of the date of authorization of this interim condensed consolidated financial information, the financial effects cannot be reliably estimated due to the evolving nature of the events.
