Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on this condensed consolidated interim financial information based on our review.

Scope of Review

We conducted our review in accordance with the International Standard on Review Engagements 2410, "Review of Interim Financial Information Performed by the Independent Auditor of the Entity". A review of interim financial information consists of making inquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, nothing has come to our attention that causes us to believe that the accompanying 30 September 2026 condensed consolidated interim financial information is not prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with IAS 34, 'Interim Financial Reporting'.

The Group has not early adopted the new accounting standard in preparing these interim financial statements; however, earlier application is permitted.

IFRS 18 requires a more structured statement of profit or loss and greater disaggregation of information. The Group is in the process of assessing the estimated impact that the initial application of IFRS 18 will have on its consolidated financial statements.

3. Material accounting policy information

3.1 Basis of accounting

These condensed consolidated interim financial statements for the period ended 30 September 2026 have been prepared in accordance with International Accounting Standard 34 'Interim Financial Reporting' and should be read in conjunction with the Group's last consolidated financial statements as at 31 December 2025.

These do not include all the information required for a complete set of financial statements prepared in accordance with the IFRS Accounting Standards as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IFRS Accounting Standards). However, selected explanatory notes are included to explain the events and transactions that are significant to an understanding of the Group's financial position and performance as at 30 September 2026.

The accounting policies applied in these condensed consolidated interim financial statements are the same as those were applied in the Group's consolidated financial statements for the period since inception on 3 September 2024 till 31 December 2025.

3.2 Treasury shares and share premium

The Company holds treasury shares under two arrangements:

(i) a liquidity provision arrangement, under which a liquidity provider purchases and sells the Company's shares to support market liquidity by reducing bid-ask spreads and price volatility; and

(ii) a share buyback arrangement, approved by shareholders, for the repurchase of the Company's own shares from the market.

Treasury shares are recognised at cost and presented as a deduction from equity. No gain or loss is recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss on the purchase, sale or reissuance of treasury shares. Any difference between the carrying amount of treasury shares and the consideration received on their subsequent sale is recognised directly in equity within share premium. Amounts advanced to the liquidity provider or appointed broker that remain unutilised at the reporting date are recognised as receivables.

The Company is not entitled to receive dividends on treasury shares held under either the liquidity provision arrangement or the share buyback arrangement. Accordingly, dividends attributable to such shares are deducted from the total dividend approved by the shareholders, with no corresponding income or expense recognised in the consolidated statement of profit or loss.

3. Material accounting policy information (continued)

3.3 Share based payment

The Group participates in share-based payment arrangements operated by the Ultimate Parent Company, under which Group employees receive shares in the Ultimate Parent Company in return for their services. The Ultimate Parent Company recharges the Group for the cost of these awards.

Until 2025, the Group had no obligation to settle the awards on behalf of the Ultimate Parent Company and classified them as equity-settled. The grant date fair value was recognised as an expense over the vesting period, with a corresponding increase in retained earnings.

From 2026, the Group entered into a recharge agreement under which it is contractually obliged to settle the cost of the awards in cash. A liability was recognised at fair value for services rendered to the modification date, with the corresponding amount reclassified from equity.

Recharged amounts were recognised as a liability due to related parties, with a corresponding reduction in retained earnings.

4. Judgements and use of estimates

The accounting judgements and estimates used in the preparation of these condensed consolidated interim financial statements for the period ended 30 September 2026 are the same as those that were applied in preparing the Group's consolidated financial statements for the period since inception on 3 September 2024 till 31 December 2025.

The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates .

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

25. Fair value measurement

Financial instruments comprise of financial assets and financial liabilities. Financial assets consist of cash and bank balances, amounts due from related parties and trade and other receivables. Financial liabilities consist of trade payables, other payable, lease liabilities and amounts due to related parties.

The fair value of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount at which the instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties, other than in a forced or liquidation sale.

Fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

25. Fair value measurement (continued)

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability; or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability.

The principal or the most advantageous market must be accessible to the Group.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use. The Group uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

The management considers that the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities recognised at amortised cost in the consolidated financial statements approximate their fair values.

26. Capital risk management

The Group manages its capital to ensure that it will be able to continue as a going concern while maximising the return to Shareholder through the optimisation of the debt and equity balance. The capital structure of the Group consists of equity attributable to the shareholder, comprising issued capital, reserves, and retained earnings.

27. Acquisition of subsidiaries under common control

As per the book value accounting, the Group recognizes assets and liabilities at their book values at the acquisition date. The difference between book values of assets acquired and liabilities assumed, and the consideration paid is reflected in retained earnings within the statement of changes in equity.

28. Significant events during the financial period

In September 2026, Kuwait's Ministry of Commerce and Industry ("MoCI") introduced regulations imposing caps on platform commissions, advertising charges and delivery fees applicable to digital marketplace intermediaries. The Group is complying with the regulations while challenging certain aspects through legal proceedings and engagement with the relevant government authorities. A court of first instance ruling issued in September 2026 removed the Ministry's administrative sanctioning powers under the decision; however, the underlying caps remain in effect.
